

Executive summary

Medreich is a fully integrated pharmaceutical company with an established existence across the world. This company mainly involves in manufacturing of pharmaceutical dosage which are catering to therapeutic categories, across various geographies. This company spread across 54 countries, the company is involved in manufacturing formulations for multinationals like GSK, Pfizer, Sanofi Aventis, Wyeth, Mylan and many other customers. In India pharmaceutical companies are spreading across the area and today medicines are available in online also.

In this report I studied the cashflow of Medreich company and I analyse the percentage of flow of cash in to the company. This report also includes the introduction about industry and company as well as vision, mission, SWOT analysis of the company. Second chapter includes theoretical background of the study.

In upcoming years this industry will grow further and have a bright future. As in India this companies are focussing on providing convenience and comfort to their customers. In this industry technology aspects are also playing a very crucial role and Medrieche company is adopting various technology to give good service to the customers.

This project report gave me an great learning exposure and I am able to understand the cashflow statements of the Medreich company. This report contains overall analysis of industry and company as well as data analysis of cash flow statements of Medreich company. This study helps me in knowing inflow and outflow of cash in Medreich company and the project covers the topic of “Cashflow statements analysis of Medreich Company”.