When we enter New York harbour, the first thing we see is the Statue of Liberty. What impresses us the most is its size and magnificance. Have you ever wondered how it came to be there? The Statue of Liberty was a gift from the people of France to mark the one-hundred-year anniversary of American Independence. In 1869, sculptor Frederic Auguste Bartholdi began to plan his concept for the monument.

Bartholdi chose the look of classic Greek and Roman figures. He envisioned Liberty as a strong and proud figure, one who personified not only the majestic Greek goddesses of the past, but also the working men and women of the present. Finally, in 1884, the work was finished, and Liberty was packed into 214 crates and sent to New York City. Only one problem stood in the way. While the French had raised a lot of funds to build the statue, New York had not secured the funds to build its foundation. It was not until a New York newspaper implored people for donations that money became available. Finally, on 28th October 1886, Americans celebrated the unveiling of the Statue of Liberty.

- Why was the Statue of Liberty given as a gift to America by France?
- What is the name of the sculptor of the monument 'the Statue of Liberty'?
- What did the sculptor imagine the Statue of Liberty to be?
- How many years did it take to unveil the Statue of Liberty?
- Trace the word from the passage which means the same as "imagined".

There are different methods we can follow to save clean drinking water to deal with the water scarcity. Rain water harvesting is one of the most effective and suitable methods among 'save water' techniques. Afforestation is also the method as it reduces the surface runoff and recharges the ground water. It promotes underground water conservation. By practicing such methods we can conserve more water naturally and ensure the availability of it for future generations we should take a pledge and make a lifelong motto of 'Save water', Save life, Save earth.

We should teach simple methods of water saving to our children, women and other members of the family like turning off all the taps tightly after each use, using sprinklers to water the lawn, giving bath to pets in the lawn, repair of all the leaking pipes, harvesting rain water of purposes like watering plant, washing clothes, etc.

We should also practice keeping the river water clean and safe for future use and safety of water animals.

IV. Summarize the passage given below and give a suitable title: (5)

A painter of eminence had once resolved to finish a piece of art which should please the whole world. When, therefore, he had drawn a picture in which his utmost skill was exhausted, it was exposed in the public market-place, with directions at the bottom for every spectator to mark with a brush that lay by every limb, and feature which seemed erroneous. The spectators came and in the general public applauded; but each, willing to show his talent at criticism, marked whatever he thought improper. At evening, when the painter came, he was mortified to find the whole picture one universal blot-not a single stroke that had not the marks of disapprobation. Not satisfied with this trial, the next day he resolved to try it in a different manner and exposing his picture as before, desired that every spectator would mark those beauties he approved or admired.

The people complied: and the artist, returning, found his picture covered with the remarks of beauty; every stroke that had been yesterday condemned, now received the character of approbation. "Well", cried the painter, "I now find that the best way to succeed is to aim at satisfying the few".

Make the mighty ages of eternity.
So our little errors
Lead the soul away
From the path of virtue
Far in sin to stray.
Little deeds of kindness,
Little words of love,
Help to make earth happy
Like the heaven above.
